

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by custom and agreed upon at one time that divergent views be equally represented. The air waves belong to the people; it apparently is time we the people take it back///